J&K integral part of India, says Naidu

Sanjay Khajuria | TNN

Jammu: Asserting that Jammu and Kashmir is an integral part of India and the country is capable of solving its own problems, Vice-President M Venkaiah Naidu, in a veiled attack on Pakistan, said here on Friday that other nations should confine themselves to their domestic problems rather than giving unsolicited advice to India.

Addressing the third and fourth annual convocation of the Indian Institute of Management (IIM) in Jammu, Naidu said some people from the "neighbourhood" had always tried to create disturbances because they didn't want India to progress. "My advice to some friends, who are trying to give unasked advice to us in between and make commentaries to confine themselves to their domestic problems... We are capable of taking care of our own problems and they need not worry about us," he added.

The Vice-President also made special mention of J&K and said, "My dear youngsters, where you are studying is an integral part of India. And we are of the opinion we are capable of solving our problems. No country for that matter has any business to interfere or make comments on the internal affairs of another country or any other country. We all believe in democracy and civilization."

He covertly attacked Pakistan, saying, "If you are really civilized you are not expected to interfere in the affairs of any other country. I am very clear about it."

Naidu remarked that some people from the neighbourhood always try to create problems and disturbances for India. "We should not allow them to succeed, he said and added that we should be guided by the spirit of national integration — nation first, party and profession next and self last. That should be our attitude, nation first attitude irrespective of caste, creed, sex, religion and region," he said.

Asserting that the country is moving forward, he said, "The entire world is looking towards India and (the country is being respected worldwide."
